NIPSCO ANNOUNCES IMMEDIATE JOB OPENINGS

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. -- Northern Indiana Public Service Company (NIPSCO) today announced it is accepting applications to fill a number of open meter reading and construction helper positions throughout northern Indiana.

“These types of positions are a great way to get started in the company, as many of our current employees began their careers in these positions,” said Leslie Gerson, Director of Human Resources.

Construction helpers will perform general labor duties in one of NIPSCO’s three power plants or in the construction field operating areas throughout northern Indiana. Meter readers will have responsibilities for reading gas and electric meters.

Applicants must have a two-year technical degree or the equivalent work experience in a skilled trade, such as auto mechanics, electrical, electronics, engineering, plumbing, heating and air conditioning, mechanical maintenance, carpentry, operation of heavy equipment or welding.

Positions also require a high school diploma or equivalent.

Job descriptions and the process for submitting applications for available positions can be accessed by going to www.nipsco.com and selecting the “Career Opportunities” link at the bottom of the page.

Candidates must apply online. After applications are reviewed, candidates will be contacted by a human resources representative for next steps.
